

The WAHI Inspector

Vol. 12, No. 3

March 2007

From the President's Desk: Membership Involvement is the Key

For the past few years, we have worked as an organization to have more members involved in WAHI. Our Board believes member involvement is a key for success and we want to spread WAHI work throughout the organization. For the past year, Tom Monaghan, WAHI Vice President, has worked on organizing our committees. We also have all committees make a status report at all board meetings.

With more members officially involved, we can respond to more member concerns and communicate with more members. If you have a special talent or an issue or concern, perhaps you would like to be part of a committee. We have many issues facing WAHI and our board members just can't personally address every concern.

If you have an issue or suggestion for WAHI, you should submit the information to the chair of the appropriate committee. To make it simpler for the busy committee chair, it would be great to submit the information in writing and follow up with a phone call. We are all very busy and having specific and detailed information saves a lot of time.

While we do have an Official WAHI Internet Forum, not all the committee chairs and board members are active in this forum. Posting requests and information in the forum does not ensure the right person will see it. So take a look at the newsletter, find the appropriate person and route your written information to that person.

WAHI does have a new "WAHI Message Board" and it will be a great communication tool when members start using it. It has forums for various topics and communication systems for WAHI committees. Until more WAHI members and committee members use this system, you may not get a response from posting information
